About Us

A third generation Nevadan, Sally has lived in Las Vegas since 1962, and is firmly established in the business community. After selling her own bar in 1988, she entered the real estate market, gravitating toward commercial sales, bars and restaurants in particular. Her years of first hand experience with the Las Vegas market have included appearing as an expert witness. Her belief that service is the key to her success has, in fact, proved so successful she brought on board another agent to assist with her rapidly growing business. Stephanie has brought to the team her flair for financial analysis, focusing on the special challenges of liquor and gaming. Incorporating her marketing skills with the latest software, she creates a clear, comprehensive sales package. Extensive advertising and cooperation with other business brokers is the basis of a strong networking system. Reaching out to the bar owners of Las Vegas, they publish a newsletter reporting on subjects of interest, e.g. new laws, new bar owners, conventions, new bar concepts.

BAR OWNERS SPEAK

"Sally knows more about the Las Vegas bar market than most. She does what she says, when she says." Mark Rowley, Fresco's

"Sally and Stephanie always know what's movin' and shakin' on the Las Vegas bar scene. I can always count on them to be ethical and reliable." Bob Doe, Pug's Pub

"I have bought and sold 3 bars through Sally and Stephanie. When they put together a deal, it stays put together." Dan Colich, Club Diamond

"Sally stayed with me every step of the way, from offer, to escrow, through licensing and the closing. If I have questions, I still call her. If she doesn't know the answer, she knows where to go to get it."
Shelly Elias, Flex

"The team of Sally and Stephanie Taylor is a definite winner. The degree of professionalism displayed by these two makes me very comfortable doing business with them." John Monaco, Club Monaco
